

PRESS RELEASE

Crucell Candidate for Amsterdam Midkap Index on Euronext

Leiden, The Netherlands, November 30, 2004 - Dutch biotechnology company Crucell N.V. (Euronext, NASDAQ: CRXL) announced today that it has been selected by Euronext Indices B.V. (Euronext) as a candidate for inclusion in the Amsterdam Midkap (AMX) index.

Euronext released yesterday an indicative selection of the constituent securities for the AEX and AMX indices. Based on data currently available, Crucell is eligible for inclusion in the AMX index. Candidate selection is largely based on full year 2004 turnover of shares in euro's. The definitive selection of companies to be included in the AMX index will be announced at the beginning of 2005 and will take effect on March 2, 2005.

About Crucell

Crucell N.V. is a biotechnology company focused on developing vaccines and antibodies that prevent and treat infectious diseases, including Ebola, influenza, malaria and West Nile virus. The company's development programs include collaborations with Aventis Pasteur for influenza vaccines, the U.S. National Institutes of Health for Ebola and malaria vaccines, and GlaxoSmithKline (GSK), Walter Reed Army Institute of Research and New York University for a malaria vaccine.
